MONUMENT COMMISSION.

Crowning Piece Reported Finished-Naval Astragal-General Bennett's Death.

The monument commission, at its all-day session yesterday, transacted business chiefly of a financial nature. "The president laid before the board a communication from the Mexican Veterans' Association indorsing the action of the commission as regarded the monument dates, and a letter was discussed from the American Bronze Company, which stated that the "Indiana" is complete and would be placed in position as soon as the weather will permit. Bureau Brothers, of Philadelphia, wrote the board that they expect to commence the work of erecting the naval astragal during the latter part of July. The death of Gen. Thomas W. Bennett, a member of the commission, was announced, and, on motion of General Manson, the following resolutions were prepared and adopted: Resolved, That in the death of Gen. Thomas W. Bennett, who served as a member of this board from July 25, 1889, until his death, the con mission suffers a severe loss, since he was devoted to its work, continuously manifesting the livellest interest in its progress, and being of much assistance, until disabled, in caring for the various details and in forwarding the monument

Bennett has been transferred to that other army which is constantly being recruited from the ranks of those who have upheld the flag of the country in times of public danger: that his name is now enrolled in the list of Indiana's silent victors, and that we will ever cherish his memory in tenderness and respect. Resolved. That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the widow of our late comrade and that we tender her our profound sympathy in this hour of her affliction

Resolved, That in his death Commissioner

Died Widely and Well Known.

Edward G. Orr, whose funeral took place yesterday, was a young man well known in this city, where he has lived for eighteen years, fourteen of which he has been engaged in the tobacco trade. He was born in Connersville, Ind., in 1859, and removed here when a boy. His business gave him a wide acquaintance, and he was universally respected. His death from consumption in his young manhood is greatly to be deplored, and his family will have the sympathy of his large circle of friends.

WILL HOLD ITS ANNUAL FAIR

State Board of Agriculture, Oblivious of the Attempts on Its Life, Decides in Favor of a Fair-Horse-Breeders' Stakes to Be Added to the Premiums Offered -Dates Sept. 18 to 23, Inclusive.

The annual February meeting of the elective members of the State Board of Agriculture began yesterday morning at the Statehouse. It is practically a board of directors, and is composed of sixteen members, as follows: V. K. Officer, Volga; W. A. Maze, Sharpsville; W. W. Hamilton, Greensburg; J. N. Davidson, Whitesville; J. M. Sankey, Terre Haute; Charles Downing, Greenfield; M. S. Claypool, Muncie; M. A., McDonald, - West Lebanon; Robert Mitchell. Princeton; James S. McCoy, Monroe City; J. Q. A. Seig. Corydon; S. W. Dungan, Franklin; H. B. Howland, Indianapolis; C. B. Harris, Goshen; W. A. Banks, LaPorte, and R. M. Lockhart, Wa-

The meeting was called to order by President Officer, with a full complement of members present, except Mr. McDonald, who is engaged in the lawsuit at Noblesville, and Mr. Dungan, who is seriously ill at his home. The board was in rather of a quandary whether to proceed with its business or not. There has been a bill introduced in the Legislature to abolish the board and turn its property over to the State. Some of the members thought, in view of that fact, that the body ought to wait and see what action was taken upon it, but the majority favored going shead, let come what might. The bill is now resting in a pigeon-hole of the ways and means committee of the House, and it is the general opinion that it will be reported on ad-

The most important subject and the principal one for which the board assembled was to decide on the advisability of holding the annual State fair. There was holding the annual State fair. There was so strong a negative sentiment at the January meeting of the full board that the matter was carried over to the present one. W. A. Maze introduced a resolution favoring it, and it sprung a lively war of words. J. M. Sankey headed the opposition and his chief argument against it was that the greater attraction of the world's fair would, in all likelihood, make the local one a pecuniary failure. He also cited the fact of the G. A. R. encampment, preceding the dates fixed only two or three weeks, and said that also would serve to draw patronage from it. It was put to vote and Mr. Saukey's was the also would serve to draw patronage from it.

It was put to vote and Mr. Saukey's was the only dissenting voice. The date agreed on is from Sept. 18 to 23, inclusive, it being the one least conflicting with any of the displays of the surrounding cities.

M. L. Hare and Horace Wood, representing the Indiana Horace breeders' Trotting and Pacing Association, appeared before the board with a proposition, which was submitted, to the effect that the horse-breeders desire the board to take their annual stakes, and allow their races to be run at the time of the State fair. Mr. Hare at the time of the State fair. Mr. Hare said that the breeders would offer six stakes, as follows:

Trotters-Two-year-olds eligible to the threeminute class, three-year-olds eligible to the 2:45 class, and four-year-olds eligible to the 2:35 Pacers—Two-year-olds eligible to the 2:50 class, three-year-olds eligible to the 2:40 class, and four-year-olds eligible to the 2:30 class.

Mr. Hare also stated that Terre Haute and Evansville were bidding strongly for their races, but they preferred to run them in Indianapolis, if the board saw fit. There being six stakes, would make but one race each day for them. All of the members present thought favorably of the project, and the matter was referred to the committee on premiums, with instructions to add the stakes named to their list.

It was expected that the members of the Indianapolis Driving Club would meet with the board to discuss racing matters, but only Mr. Taggart, of that organization, was present. He said that Mr. Holt and was present. He said that Mr. Holt and Bruce Carr were prevented from attendance by sickness. The status between the board and driving club is that the latter has the grounds of the former leased for fifty weeks in the year, with the agreement to hold no meeting of any kind within thirty days of the time of the State fair. The latter clause has been waived in the case of the club's fall meeting the coming season, as it is desired to hold it the week of Sept. 4, which is the one of the G. A. R. encampment. The question the G. A. R. encampment. The question which arises is this:

C. A. Merrifield, of the committee on buildings and grounds for the G. A. R. encampment, appeared before the board and asked that its grounds be given for the purpose of quartering veterans that week, and the board replied that it was more than willing to do so, but that it had no control over the grounds at that time, they belonging exclusively to the Driving Club.
The board wanted to do anything it possibly could to further the terests of the encampment, yet wanted to do nothing detrimental to the enterprise of the horsemen. The matter was finally given into the hands of a committee consisting of Hiram Howland, General Superintendent Peed and Secretary Kennedy, who were given full power to act in the matter. The retiring treasurer, Sylvester Johnson, reported on the financial condition of the board. He said that there was in the treasury at the present time $4,901.99, and that the board owned bonds to the amount of $50,000, the total of which, $34,901.99, represented its total money assets. Also, that it had no outstanding paper falling due until next January, when a note of $8,000 matured. James A. Wildman will assume control of the treasury at the conclusion of this meeting.

At the January meeting a committee, composed of W. A. Banks, J. N. Davidson, W. M. Blackstock, W. A. Scott and D. M. Rice. was appointed on premium list, to report at the present meeting. It announced itself ready to do so vesterday morning, but the board was not ready to hear it, and the matter was deferred until to-day. It is un-derstood that it has made but a few minor changes from the one of last year.

R. M. Lockhart, J. Q. A. Seig and James McCoy were appointed a committee to arrange a schedule of salaries for the board's employes, but it did not finish its work last night, and will report to-day. A number of bills were allowed, all of which partook of a routine nature.

AMUSEMENTS.

TOMLINSON'S-OVIDE MUSIN CONCERT. There was a May festival audience at Tomlinson Hall last night, there being but a very few vacant seats at the extreme rear of the hall, and it was quite a few minutes past 8 o'clock before the ushers had all the audience seated. The attraction was the Ovide Musin Concert Company, the fifth entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. lecture course. The concert company is one of the best that travels. Ovide Musin, the violinist, is a master, and recog-nized as one of the greatest liv-ing artists, Certainly he makes his instrument answer to his every mood. United to a wonderful execution is a skill in expression which makes the slightest variation immediately comprehended by the listener. For his first number he played a caprice, No. 2, of his own composition, and for his recall, 'Auld Robin Gray," with varia"tions, also his own. The audience were so delighted that a second recall was responded to and the Bocherini's minuet, played pianissimo, was given. Even with the three, they were loath to let him go. Mr. Musin's second soios were "Evening Star." from "Tannbauser," and a mazurka of his own, both given with the utmost skill, fairly enrapturing every one. As a recall number he played the Paganini air for one string. Mrs. Appie Louise Tanner-Musin, the soprano of the company, called the American nightingale, has a voice of sweetness and purity and well cultivated. Mrs. Musin sang Proch's air and variations and was most vociferously recalled and acknowledged the applause with a second song. Mrs. Musin also sang "Pre aux Clercs." by Heroid, with violin obligate, a brilliant composition, brilliantly given. Mrs. Inez Parmater, mezzo soprano, won a cordial welcome and a place in the regard of her hearers, by her manners, which are pleasing, and her voice, which is of rich quality and admirably to give a mate, and sang a taking little ballad, "Two Marionettes," by Edith Cooke. Mr. Pier Delasco is the only one of the company who was not here with them before, and is a very acceptable addition to the quintet of performers. Mr. Delasco's bass voice filled the hall, and his wellrounded tones were of a very enjoyable quality. He sang "In Felice," by Verdi, and when recalled sang an air from "Robert." He also sang "The Mighty Deep," by Jude, and, for an encore, "Fain Cuia."

The pianist of the company, Mr. Edward School hear appeared abilities. As a solo Scharf, has unusual abilities. As a solo pianist he plays with a vigor, together with a lightness and smoothness of execution, which shows his mastery of the keys. The favorite "Kirmess," of Saint Saens, opened the programme, and awakened the enthusiasm of the audience, not only for this, but asm of the andience, not only for this, but the whole programme. When Mr. Scharf played his second number he, too, was obliged to come back, and played Grieg's "Norwegian Bridal Party Paesing By" exquisitely. As a finale to this evening of delightful music the vocalist's sung a trio, by Normann. The company recently appeared in Cincinnati, and the Music Hall was packed. The audience at Tomlinson Hall was exceedingly complimentary, for no other musicians complimentary, for no other musicians have drawn such a house except for the May festival. A few more such concerts at popular prices during the season would be more profitable to all concerned than a fine concert at $1.50 and $2.50 a seat. MME, MODJESKA'S ENGAGEMENT, Mme. Helena Modjeska will play her annual engagement in Indianapolis at the Grand Opera House the first part of next week. Monday and Tuesday evenings "Henry VIII" will be given, for the first time here, by Modjeska, on the same scale of scenic elaboration as characterized its original production in New York city. Wednesday evening she will play Lady Macbeth. There will be no Wednesday matinee. In her supporting company, which is an un-usually large and capable one, are such well-known actors as Mr. Otis Skinner and John A. Lane. The sale of seats for Modjeska's engagement will begin to-mor-row morning, and a large demand is anticipated. ERNESTINOFF QUARTET CLUB. The Ernestinoff Quartet Club will make their first public appearance at Y. M. C. A. Hall Friday evening, the 17th. The club includes Mr. Alexander Ernestinoff, director; Miss Lydia W. Herron and Miss May Johnson, first soprano; Misses Adele Wallick and Eloise Palmer, second soprano; Misses Kittie Herron and Effie Henley, first Misses Kittie Herron and Effie Henley, first alto; Mrs. A. Q. Jones and Miss Bertha Pfafflin, second alto; Messrs. W. H. Daggett and H. H. Van Wie, first tenor; Messrs. W. E. Duthie and V. H. Tuttle, second tenor; Messrs. J. L. Geiger and J. S. Mc-Cullough, first bass; Messrs. O. W. Isensee and W. G. Wood, second bass. The quartet will be assisted by R. G. Marone, harpist; W. C. Mannfeld, violin; C. A. Wocher, viola, and Julius Wocher, violoncello.

Mr. Charles A. Gardner, a well-liked German dialect comedian, will begin a threenight's engagement at the Grand to-morrownight, in his new comedy "Fatherland," a piece in which there is much picturesque scenery. Songs by Mr. Gardner, and a genuine Tyrolean quartet, are teatures of the performance.

"Mr. Potter of Texas" will be re-peated at the matinee at English's to-day, and to-night, for the last time. Tomorrow night, Sweeney, Alvedo & Goetze's minstrels, an organization of thirty persons, will give a performance at this house, and on Friday and Saturday the attraction will be Neil Burgess's comedy company in "The County Fair." a very popular play, in which there is introduced an exciting race horse scene, and other realistic effects.

FOUNDERS' DAY ADDRESS.

Hon. Z. T. Sweeney Speaks to Stulents at Irvington Upon America's Greatness.

Yesterday was founders' day at Butler University, and consequently a holiday. In the evening Hon. Z. T. Sweeney, exconsul-general to Constantinople, delivered the address in honor of the day. His subject was the "Peculiar Greatness of America," and was treated with all the vivacity and interest with which Mr. Sweeney's addresses are always marked. The speaker showed the many ways in which our country surpasses all others of the world. But he was by no means partial or narrow in his views. Discussing his subject negatively, he pointed out that in naval matters America is a pigmy beside Great Britain, and showed the difference between the condition of the English and the United States navies. In military matters, also, we are less than Great Britain; in geographical extent our country is but one-fourth of Russia; in fine arts we cannot compare with France or Italy. Yet ours is the greatest nation on the face of the earth to-day.

Mr. Sweeney then proceeded to show in what this greatness lay. America is great in freedom to think, great in freedom to speak, and this right to express conviction is a sacred one, existing nowhere on the face of the earth as it does in America. It is great in our freedom to act, having the right to be what we please, and where we please, and when we please-a right peculiar to the American. Again, our greatness is found in freedom of conscience and political equality.
As representatives of all this we have the schoolhouse, the printing-press, the ballot-box, the church-house and the White House. These are the peculiar elements of American greatness. Some of the dangers that threaten each of these were enumerated. The common school is attacked by mighty influences and powers; the print-ing-press is menaced by party spirit; the ballot-box is threatened by corruption and bribery; our free church is menaced by sectarianism; the political equality of the Nation is threatened by ring machinery. People may express their will, but it is practically overthrown by a corrupt ring. A vivid description of a caucus followed, in which the delegates thought they were expressing their own sweet will, when, in reality, they were doing nothing more than going over a carefully prepared programme made before-Mr. Sweeney held that it is right that every man should feel a sense of greatness in his own country. The Greek loves the steep hills of his own home as they run down to meet the sea; the Arab, the boundless wastes of his desert home; the Switzer feels that no land is so fair as his Alpine home; but if a nation is truly great to-day it must not repose upon past achievements.

but must face the sunrise. Exchange for Women's Work, The Indianapolis Exchange for Women's Work of the State of Indiana yesterday filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State. The incorporators are Amanda L. Jenkins, Mrs. S. T. Harper, Mary S. Bunker, Ella M. Ingraham, Chlore T. Carson, Mrs. E. Chaplin, Rachel McKee, Charlotte S. Daniels and Mary A. Marsh. The proposed association is charitable in its objects and aims, is intended to promote mutual co-operation among the women of the State, to furnish working women profitable employment, a market for the products of their labor, and a depository for the storage and sale of the same, and to foster and encourage industry and enterprise among them and a cultivation of taste and skill in all branches of woman's labor.

Excitement Over a Bridge Site. The citizens of West Indianapolis and tarmers residing southwest of the suburb will hold a mass-meeting to-night in Spencer's Hall, at the corner of Morris and Harding streets, to di cuss the location of the proposed new bridge over White river. Considerable feeling is manifested by the partisans for the different sites, and it is expected that a large crowd will be in attendance.

Business Ventures. Articles of incorporation have been issued by the Secretary of State, as follows: Fort Branch Creamery Company, capital stock, $10,000; Wabash Township Gas and Oil Company, of Crarydon, capital stock, $1,340; Saltillo Stone and Lime Company, used. To her first song she was obliged of Saltilloville, capital stock, $10,000.

HERE'S TOTHE MARION CLUB

Getting Ready for the Annual Election with Vim and Vigor, and Fun Ahead.

Two Tickets in the Field-Story of Its Growth from Humble Quarters to a Mansion, About Which Five Hundred Members Center.

A meeting of members of the Marion Club was held at the clubhouse last evening for the purpose of electing a committee, the duty of which shall be to place in nomination an independent ticket of candidates to be voted for at the club's annual election, March 1. There was a large attendance, over which President Wiltsie pre-

The business of the meeting was at once proceded with, the result being the selection of the following named gentlemen to act as the committee: Merrill Moores, Dr. William Stocker, Harry Wood, Robert Metzgar and Charles Elliott. No specified time was set for it to report, except that it must be ten days previous to

A committee on a regular ticket was appointed some time ago, as follows: A. R. Hovey, C. S. Denny, E. S. Boyd, Frank Sherfey, R. O. Hawkins and Claude Allo-

The officers to be elected at the time named are president, five vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, and a board of five directors and six ex officio directors.

No little interest is taken in the election by the members, and some lively campaigning is imminent. The Marion Club is hardly recognizable now, compared with itself a year ago. At that time it occupied small quarters in the When Block, its members were comparatively few and interest flagged. Early last spring a few tireless, energetic workers determined to raise a monument out of the club's ashes, and the present cozy, homelike quarters on Ohio street, are the best evidence of their success. With a membership of 150 and a debt of $200 the club took a long lease on the house it now occupies. The house's condition was more than bad, and nearly $500 was raised and spent in cleaning up, papering and kalsomining the walls. Furniture, the best to be had for club use, was purchased, billiard and pool tables were put in the amusement rooms upstairs, a piano in the amusement rooms upstairs, a plano was added, and to-day the club owns $2,000 of property, has within a few of 500 members, and is entirely out of debt.

The club is an advocate of Republican principles, and among its members are to be found the stanchest of "young blood" in the party, as well as some of the old war horses. Its work during the last campaign is a better indication of its worth than all that can be written about it. Its social features are many, and a pleasanter place features are many, and a pleasanter place to drop in for an hour's review of the daily papers or current magazines can hardly be imagined. Much of its success is due to the hard work and never-despairing spirit of its present roll of officers. Mr. Charles F. Wiltsie, its president, was the first to propose the step that took it to where it is now, and he has devoted much of his private time to helping grade it over shoels that appeared. Mr. ing guide it over shoals that appeared. Mr. James W. Fesler, secretary and treasurer, was also indefatigable, and his work has been ardnous. Mr. George Elliott, first vice-president. and the board of directors, Messrs. R. E. Groft, Morris Raschig, J. M. Churchill, John Mc-Collough and Horace Smith, have alradded their influence and zeal for the common good. It is expected to enlarge on its social features during the interim of political warfare, and that this is recognized is evidenced by the large daily attendance of the members. The club will send delegates to the coming convention of the Lincoln League. ing guide it over shoals that appeared. Mr.

ROMEO AND JULIET,

Mr. Joshua Langadale Takes Miss Chapman to Chicago, Where They Were Married.

The gossipers in the southeastern portion of the city have a rare bit of news to handle, in the way of an elopement and marriage. The parties to the elopement escapade are Joshua Langsdale, bookkeeper at the New York steam laundry, on South Illinois street, and the sixteen-year-old daughter of Edward Chapman, residing at No. 97 Woodlawn avenue. Saturday night the couple quietly took their departure from this city, went to Chicago, where they were married, and returned home. They are now awaiting the parental forgiveness and benediction, which has not as yet been extended. Yesterday Langedale returned to his post of duty at the laundry and went about his work with the air of a man who didn't care whether the forgiveness and benediction ever came or not.

Accused of Stealing Hogs. Yesterday afternoon patrolman Ward arrested Ed Barton for grand larceny. He was accused of stealing four hogs, which he disposed of to Edward Taylor and Joseph Maynard. Last night the latter two were arrested by Ward and Tieben for receiving stolen goods. Taylor was released on bond in the sum of $1,000, with T. F. Harrison as surety.

Imported Wines. For fine imported wines, Sherry, Port, Rhein Wines, etc., go to Caspar Schmalholz, 29 South Meridian street, direct importer. Goods sold from one bottle on up.
